From sprawling cocktails and home-brewed beer to world-class wine lists with playful bar snacks, St. Gallen elevates drinking to high art. Here are some of my favorites.

76 Alt St. Gallen

This house is part of the original city wall and was built around 1268. Since 1537, it is the oldest restaurant in the city of St. Gallen. There's still an original guillotine in the display window from 1843. It's a nice place to stay with friends and enjoy some drinks.

79 Südbar

Here you can enjoy well-mixed cocktails, a sunny terrace or occasionally listen to live music or spoken word events. Whenever you get here, you're set for a good time because they have the power to transform an average night into an excellent one.

77 The Irish pub

The Irish pub is the only pub in St. Gallen that serves proper fish and chips and offers a good atmosphere, hearty pub grub and an excellent pint of Guinness – smooth, creamy and tasty. Combined with the efficient and quick table service, it is a good place to stay on a rainy day.

78 Monti American Bar

In 1996, this bar reached an entry in the Guinness Book of Records for a «bar menu with 1000 mixed drinks». Whether Hillary, Bentley or Astoria Fizz, from alcohol-free to fairly high percentage – there is almost everything here.

Rosenbergstrasse 55

80 Einstein Bar

The bar is like a bar in an old English luxury hotel. You get great and attentive service from experienced bartenders with an awesome choice of whiskey. The «Einstein Bar» is my insider tip for anyone enjoying the evening over a great drink in a gentleman like atmosphere.

81 Tankstell Bar

Years before, this place used to be an old gas station. It has got a lovely garden with some interesting sculptures and keeps you in good company, where you can reach out for the glass, laugh, discuss, develop ideas, make plans and reminisce.

Beer, Beer, Beer

We from St.Gallen love to drink beer just as much as we philosophize about the taste of beer with friends. Normally, we drink the beer from «Schützengarten» which is the oldest Brewery from Switzerland existing since 1779.

But it is not only famous for its range of award-winning beers, but also as home to the first museum of beer bottles in the country with over 3000 beer bottles from 260 different Swiss breweries.

There are also four guys in our town which brew their own beers with a lot of different flavors.

BrüWBar by Ole Lind

Here you can choose out of twelve taps and a great selection of bottled craft beers. Lind says he's even got beer for people who don't like beer.

Biergarage by Adrian Schmid

Everything started in a garage. Now he sells his beer (Oldtimer, Blondine, Lady, Bandit and Künstler) online.

BCB by Marco Bleisch

Marco brews almost over 20 different beers. Try the ginger beer also available at the Kafi Franz or Restaurant Barz.

HB by Marco Hermann

Marco brews his own beers with a lot of different flavors. I recommend trying the «9000 Pale Ale». On the website, you can see where you can buy them.

82 Prado Bar

It's the perfect spot to grab a bite before catching a train because it's near the train station. Enjoy the delicious Spanish tapas, a good glass of wine or a tasty glass of a special gin. Nice to know: The gym bags of this bar are kind of famous on Instagram and look great.

83 Birreria

I really love the music in this bar – from classic rock'n'roll to hardrock and metal! And they offer a huge variety of beer.

84 Affekt Bar

Nice location with a large terrace, friendly staff and delicious mixed drinks. Electronic music from techno to deep house.

85 La Buena Onda

«La Buena Onda» is condensing St.Gallen's lifestyle with a welcoming, easygoing crowd, a good mix of tourists and locals, after job drinks and friends hangouts.

86 Splügen

The «Splügen» offers a comfortable atmosphere perfect for relaxing hours after a full day of shopping and sight-seeing. The dimmed light, the old town scenery and the relaxed atmosphere are more reasons to go there and enjoy one or two drinks.

89 Netts Schützengarten

This is a very well designed, modern and intriguing restaurant in the oldest brewery from Switzerland. Enjoy the superb «entrecôte café de paris» which is served on a heated sizzling plate. By the way: the wheat beer which is house brewed is awesome!

87 Don Pedro Bar

This is a stylish bar where you can relax in the sun in the afternoon. They serve more than a 100 freshly prepared cocktails, a good selection of rum, gin and vodka. Enjoy your time here with your friends and easy chillout music playing in the background.

88 Bagutta

This should be your last destination before you go home after a long night out and the reason for having a nightcap. You may drink a «Springbock» only once in a lifetime – well, the current record is ten in one night.
